Common Notes:

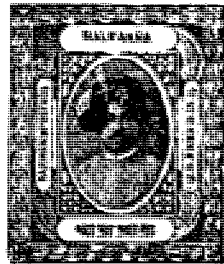

- stamps Scott 14-15 and 20-25, SG 18abc, 19 and 26-31 do not appear in booklets. Those stamps are printed in panes/sheets of 8 or 12.
- face value: the monetary system was 12 pies to 1 anna, 12 annas to 1 rupee
- illustrations: photos of covers in 2/3 size, of stamps in 3/2 size
- interleaves: plain tissues, unprinted, same number as number of panes or one more in front of first pane, b=brown, g=grey colour, d=dull, g=glossy shining
- Scott catalogue numbers brought up-to-date acc. to the latest issue. Scott numbers mentioned in the Rogers- and Work-catalogues are outdated
- shades: because of the elementary method of printing many more shades and varieties may appear than listed here, of both stamps and booklet covers
- priced booklets have been seen and inspected by the author
- booklet panes of booklets WBC 1 to 25 were issued without gum

Booklet no. I as listed above is Pakistan no. 1, initially released in 1956, the stamps being surcharged with BANGLADESH. LIBERATED in Bengali, probably hand-stamped. Together with other Pakistan stamps left behind by the Pakistani administration after the independence of Bangladesh in 1971, also these booklet stamps may have been overprinted by local postmasters, unintentionally or on purpose.

However, all stamps of Pakistan with pre-decimal nominals were declared invalid in 1961, after decimalisation (in 1961). Post Offices had no stock of them at all. But when Pakistani regular stamps were nearing exhaustion during the time of unrest in Bangladesh in 1971 some obsolete values were taken out of Treasury for internal use. The authorities ignoring the directives of invalidation and made no attempt to stop usage of pre-decimal stamps.

Used Pakistani stamps of the pre-decimal period have not been observed with the BANGLADESH LIBERATED surcharge, or without overprint but with Bangladesh postmarks, in or after 1971. The more plausible explanation to this obscure surcharged booklet seems to be that it is a philatelic item, perhaps produced with the assistance of the in those days active London agents.

It has not been possible to determine the official status of booklets no. 1 and 2. The Postal HQ of Bangladesh and its Philatelic Service do not reply on my questions concerning the circumstances of release, nor to the number of booklets printed/released/sold, and through which channels.

Common Notes:

- priced booklets have been seen and inspected by the author
- interleaves: w means waxed tissue, p means printed waxed tissue, A means a specific interleaf, in addition to the usual ones, and with 3 or 4 Airmail labels on the right hand side
- this is just a checklist. For a more detailed listing of all known Ceylon booklets see THE WORLD POSTAL BOOKLET CATALOGUE
- prices/valuations are based upon auction results and special offers in the philatelic market
- prices are quoted for pristine booklets of excellent quality, well above what an auctioneer calls "fine" or "very fine". The general appearance of the booklet as a whole must not be affected by faded cover-colours, rusty staples, wrecked covers or demolished panes, - the usual faults in this tropical country. Incomplete booklets or covers without stamps are still useful objects for studies and collections. Sometimes those items can be obtained at the local market in Colombo

Normally, stamps in booklets are perforated all around, they cannot be distinguished from the stamps in the sheet. However, guillotined stamps have been observed, mainly in booklets no. 21f, the pane cut manually around the top, right and bottom edges, resulting in irregular perforations (February 14, 1995), - or guillotined automatically, viz. by machine, and on the upper, lower and right hand angles, leaving the perforation just inbetween the stamps and between the stamps and the margin. These cuttings were made on a trial basis by the Government Printer, the P.O. says. Stamps are normally printed on white paper from Coated Papers Ltd.

- 21fa On March 30, 1995 it was found that approximately 11 200 sheetlets from the fourth printing of 150 000 sheetlets of the Rhino booklet stamps were printed on Harrison paper with a greenish tint.
